

Washington, D.C. - August 27, 2008

Zapp, Crackle, Pop

Carolyn Zapp Jewelry

Like

Be the first of your friends to like this.

0

A sequin here, a ribbon there. Before you know it, people are calling you the rhinestone cowgirl.

Leave the dramatic effect to jeweler Carolyn Zapp, who mixes heavy chains with delicate ornamentation for a style that's feminine but never precious.

Bring a bit of interior appeal to your décolletage with a tassel necklace. The piece fuses vintage brass and chains to create a punk interpretation of home decor's frivolous fringe. Heavy black chains are offset by delicate Italian glass and enamel, while rosy brass gets a touch of shine from opalite beads.

You'll surely set yourself apart from the average.

And those catcallers will beg to join your chain gang.

Available at Upstairs on 7th, 406 7th Street NW, between E and D Streets, inside Touchstone Gallery, second floor (301-351-8308 or upstairs7th.com). To see styles, go to carolynzapp.com.

Locations

Upstairs on 7th
555 12th St NW
bt E & F Sts
Washington, DC 20004
301-351-8308

WEBSITE

Add to My Local List

MAP IT!

Related Content

Interesting Chains and Geometric Pendants

Pretty Young Thing Jewelry

Gold & Citrus Jewelry

A Peace Treaty's First Jewelry Collection

Nocturne Beaded Necklaces

Great Ideas from P.S. -- I Made This

Photos: Photo: The Cookie Sandwich Co.

© 2010 DailyCandy, Inc. All rights reserved. DailyCandy is strictly editorial. There is no pay for play.

Editorial Policy Privacy Policy Terms & Conditions Artwork by Miss Capricho